

April 2024 Newsletter

We are so excited for Spring! We have a lot of fun activities planned for April such as theme days for the "Week of the Young Child" and celebrating "National Superhero Day." You can find more information about these activities below.

WEEK OF THE YOUNG CHILD

We will be celebrating the "Week of the Young Child" April 8th-12th with some fun activities for the children. We will also be doing something fun for Family Friday. Check out the details below.

Music Monday: Make our own instruments and/or music with Sharon.

Tasty Tuesday: A treat for P.M. snack that the children can help put together.

Work Together Wednesday: Classrooms will be paired up to do fun activities together and/or be helpers.

Artsy Thursday: Each classroom will do their own art on a canvas. All canvases will be displayed as a group later.

Family Friday: We will be having a book swap. Bring in books you no longer want. Children's books or adult books such as cookbooks, fiction, non-fiction, or books on parenting would be great! Please bring your books in before Family Friday, April 12th so we can sort through them and get the table ready in time (bring books to office). The table will be in our lobby where you can feel free to take a book, book worm bookmark, and bookworm treat at pick up. We encourage your participation to help us make this a successful family activity!

SUPERHERO DAY

Since we are building future superheroes, we couldn't pass up celebrating "National Superhero Day!" 🌟 We will celebrate on Friday, April 26th (the actual day is Sunday, April 28th).

The classrooms will do the following activities during their day:

- ~Color superhero pictures and discuss what their superpower is.
- ~Receive their own mask to wear throughout the day.

At pick up parents can join the fun with these activities:

- ~A "superhero hunt" around the common areas of the center; hallways & lobby (not the classrooms). We will have a sheet for you to use and your child/children to check off the superheroes that you find (stickers of different superheroes).
- ~Grab your child's mask and have them put on a cape and any accessories we will have in the lobby so you can take a photo of your superhero!

ENJOY!
